

in view of another fact, that when this war began we were a people free from debt, and comparatively free from taxation, we find ourselves to-day burdened with a debt which is variously estimated to be from fifteen hundred millions to two thousand millions of dollars. Now, in view war is not yet ended, I stand before you this night to address to you some considerations which seem to be of the utmost public importance—nay more, considerations which do not merely concern us as a nation in our relationship to the nation but which concern our man within the sound of my voice in his own person, affecting his property, affecting his home, affecting all the dearest and most important relationships of life. (Applause.) Now, however we may differ about other things, one thing all men must agree to, that there is an amount

One man may fix the sum at two thousand millions, another at three, or another, perchance more sanguine, at four thousand millions; but all men, I care not what their political views may be, whether they are Democrats or wheth-

is an amount of indebtedness which, when it is once created, will be beyond the ability of the people to pay. But more than that, in view of what I have already stated to you, we all agree in another proposition, whatever our political opinions are, that a continuance of this war

...involve's in national ruin; for when I tell you what has been the waste heretofore, every man will agree that there will be a time—one may say a year from this, or another two, or another, perchance, three years; but we will agree in this—that there is, in the way on if we reach it, if we do not save our Union and reach an honorable peace before we reach that point of time, we will be involved in national ruin. ("Tha-'s so," and cheers.) Now bear these two points in view upon which we are are compelled to solve? It is upon this that I mean to speak to-night. I will forget the past. I will overlook all the wrongs that have been done to the great patriotic, conservative democratic party of our land. I will forget whatever myself. I say, for the time being, let the curtain fall over the past, and we will leave its transactions and events to the judgment of a dispassionate future; and now at this time let us come forward and plainly, fairly and honestly confront the questions of the day. Our

If we continue on with this war without bringing it to a timely and successful conclusion, we are of necessity to be overwhelmed with bankruptcy, national ruin, social anarchy and disorder. (Cheers.) How, then is this to be done?—

point, Republican and Democrat alike, and that our Union must be saved (applause), our Constitution must be upheld. I say upon this point all are agreed, Republican and Democrat alike. I say that because I am in mood in this sad and fearful hour of our country's distress to towards my political opponents—(applause)—yet I was mortified when I heard that the Vice President of these United States—(hisses and shouts)—perhaps in this very room, declared that he supposed “there were men in this State tution as it is, but they cannot have it." I tell the Vice President we will have it. (Applause, and a voice, "Butcher Hamlin.") Then we are seeking on all hands to bring this war to a successful result before, in the progress of time destruction and national ruin. Shall it be done? That is the question which we ought to confront, and, if possible, solve at this time before we deposit our votes in the ballot box. (Applause.) The proposition which I have stated, and which

Every day that rolls on. This expenditure, this waste of blood and treasure, brings us still nearer to the calamities to which I have alluded. I have stated wherein men of all parties substantially agree. Now, wherein are we divided? Why are we thus divided in opinion? Why at mind agitated by contention and by strife? It is this. We declare that we battle for the restoration of our Union, for the preservation of our Constitution. We say that this war should be waged for that purpose, and that purpose of the Republican party say more than this—that this war must be carried on not merely for the restoration of our Union, not merely to restore the jurisdiction of your Constitution, but it must be carried on, as they say, to root out what they assume to be the evil of the the institution of slavery. Against that we protested, because it was deviating from that policy which was arrived at at the outset, declared with all solemnity by the President of the United States, and asserted by the unanimous vote of Congress. (Applause.) But that can party, whose policy has prevailed in that party up to this time, declare now still another thing—that this war must go on until the people of the South and the Southern States are subjugated; that ten States shall be trampled

Senator from New England, they demanded subjugation. He said subjugation—that is the term. Now, then, what is the attitude of the two parties? We, on our part, combat for that upon which the Northern mind is fixed, the restoration, but Clinton and the support of our Constitution, bringing our people back to the condition they were in before this unhappy war broke out. (Applause.) Now, we are contending for that which is most easily attained, because upon that point we are a united people.

before the whole world that such is the purpose of the government, and you will have not only a united North but a divided South. I tell you there are hundreds of thousands at the South—nay, more, I believe that at this hour a ma-turn once again within the fold of this Union and feel themselves protected by its Constitution, would again come back to their allegiance and the blessings of peace would be again restored to a distracted land. (Applause.) Now, no man I care not what his political views may de, will deny this proposition, that it is more easy to bring this war to a successful result, by making it a war for the restoration of the Union and for the support of the Constitution, than by making it a war for subjugation, by making it a war that designs to trample out the rights substantially must change and modify the whole nature of our national institutions. (Applause.) There is no man who will deny that upon this point we are more united. We agree upon this. There is no man who can deny that upon this

This is a vertical, high-contrast black and white photograph. The image depicts a severely damaged, textured surface, likely the spine or a cover of an old book. The material is heavily cracked, peeling, and discolored, showing a rough, uneven texture. A small, light-colored rectangular object, possibly a piece of tape or a label remnant, is visible near the top center, partially obscured by the damage. The overall appearance is one of extreme age and wear.

MEDICAL.
LATE PROFESSOR IN THE UNIVERSITY
PENNSYLVANIA.
Private Medical and Surgical Establishment.
Devoted exclusively to treatment of private diseases of whatever nature, and all diseases to which (as a male) females are liable.
No. 615 Commercial street.
OPPOSITE THE MINT, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
CONSULTATION (by letter or otherwise) FREE.

THE NEAR APPROACH OF THIS ESTABlishment to the business portion of the city, and at the same time, its retirement, renders it easy of access and assures the patient full guarantee of secrecy.
Dr. J. C. Young has been a practical specialist for a period of twenty years, and for twelve years on this coast, during which time his private medical and surgical institute has been in uninterrupted successful operation, discharging credentialed annually upwards of five thousand patients. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.
Long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of disease of the urinary organs, enables Dr.
Young to determine clearly, and at once, the true nature of the complaint submitted to his care, securing the patient against the dangers of delay, failure, and which, alas! too often do arise from mistaken judgment; thus treating the disorder from the start with all the advantage a perfect knowledge gives.
Venereal disease, of every class and nature, cured in the most perfect, speedy, and permanent manner, without the use of mercury in any form.
Syphilis and its adjuncts, Gonorreia and its accompanying diseases, all discharges of the Urinary organs, and Prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion; Impotency; Incipient Consumption, &c.
Persons afflicted with symptoms after having been treated, should consult Dr. Young, as no disease is cured unless the patient feels perfectly well.
If there is a particle of disease left in the system, it will break out some future time, when the patient will be handed down to an innocent offspring.
Persons who have been treated with mercury should be very cautious in believing that they are well for it is a scientific fact that mercury will mingle with the venereal and form a disease a great deal worse than the original. All those who have reason to think, by bad feelings, that they have been treated thoroughly, should consult Dr. Young, and he will examine their cases and tell them at once how they stand.
Consultation Free.
Of all the above enumerated diseases—terrible in their nature, fearful as they are in their effects, and the one standing prominent amongst them for severity and destructive effects, is that most terrible of all diseases, venereal weakness, or spermatorrhea.
Those who have been the victims of this horrible disease, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of unimpaired graves with its murdered victims, should consult Dr. Young, at once, and he will sympathize with their sufferings, and endeavor to cure them for moderate compensation.
Dr. J. C. Young would especially address himself to such, giving to each all assurance of a perfect and permanent cure.
The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his mind and body, and that general disorganization, the positive traces of which are terrible and destructive of all diseases, venereal weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him down the broken path of existence towards a premature and loathsome grave.
The intermediate steps between the commencement of this disease and its consummation, are: loss of the unguished vitality—death—may be enumerated: Loss of muscular power, insanity, impotency.
To him who finds his life dripping out in the discharges of the urinary organs, or in the nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of the causes of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.
Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of mankind, brings such a one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of his happiness, is a victim of his evil and an innocent companion in his punishment. He adds to his misery and his disorder, until hope leaves him.
There is no cure except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a Physician whom you can trust, and whose practice and research has made him cognizant conversant with every phase of the disease.
All those who are married, or contemplate marriage, who experience any of the above symptoms premonitory of the presence of venereal disease, should at once place themselves in communication with Dr.
J. C. Young, 615 Commercial street, opposite U. S.
Branch Mint, either by letter or personal interview, who assures them of a perfect and permanent cure without danger of exposure or hindrance from business, it being impossible for a man's most intimate companion to discover for what he is being treated.

TO THOSE IN THE INTERIOR OF THE STATE.
Who are suffering under any form of Private Disease, whether contracted from impure connections or induced by other causes, Dr. Young will directly address himself, informing them that they can be cured without the necessity of a journey to San Francisco.
Diseases of the heart, lungs, and liver. Dr. Young would call the attention of invalids to his course of practice in the above complaints. Throwing aside as worse than useless, as highly injurious, all forms of mercury, the Doctor relies entirely upon the Vegetable Practice.
Thousands of testimonials are in his hands indicating the astonishing success he has met with in the treatment of all diseases of the Heart, Lungs and Liver, on a purely Vegetable basis. The treatment calls for no change in diet.
The success has marked his treatment of all Diseases of the Blood and Skin.
Invalids should address at once, (consultation free)

TO LADIES.
Desires of the advice of a Physician upon the disease peculiar to lay his case, should select one whose reputation for success and skill warrants him in the assurance of guaranteeing to them not only relief but perfect cure.
DR. J. C. YOUNG
Has been for years a professor of the disorders of Females, and the success attendant upon his treatment has become so well known as to elicit universal approbation.
Ladies who have taken advantage of his skill enjoy perfect immunity from a return of their former sufferings.
Communications (by letter or personal interview) perfectly confidential.
Ample Office Accommodations secure the patient against the chance of meeting other than the attending Physician.
The celebrated Female Remedies, compounded from the private prescriptions of DR. YOUNG, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied.
The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action.
No Lady should be without these Renovating Agents.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and medical advice of Dr. Young on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Young takes this opportunity of observing that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and as promptly as possible.
The Doctor would take this occasion to assure those desiring of medical relief, that he has no connection with any other office. He is to be found only at 615 Commercial street, opposite the U. S. Branch Mint, San Francisco, where all letters must be addressed.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE State of California, Oregon, and adjacent Territories:
THE SUBSCRIBER ONE OF YOUR EARLIest and most successful correspondents, and for the long time engaged as a Journalist, and particularly of late in a Journal devoted to the chief resources of the Pacific States, respectfully submits the following plan and proposition to lay before the people of Europe from England, France and Germany the working classes, mechanics, artisans, miners, and all others for the purpose of developing the resources of our State, and to our Government, to the marine conveyances—the merchant—the manufacturer, the mining conveyances and professional community cannot be benefited, provided the facilities are offered to such emigrants, and according to the tenor of our laws regarding such. For these purposes the subscriber desires to seek only the necessary or pecuniary aid to take him across the Pacific and Atlantic, so that he may be enabled to lay before the people of Europe a work which he has compiled from authentic sources comprising the mineral wealth of the Pacific States, including partly Mexico, Lower California, British Columbia, &c., together with a synopsis of the climatology, agriculture, arts and manufactures, with interesting statistics of our imports and exports, and population. Also, the organic laws of the State, the local and general laws governing mining, the Pre-emption Act, and kindred subjects pertaining to the Pacific States. The author reserves for himself the right of translation of this work (which has cost him three years of his time to collect and compile) in the German and French languages.
He contemplates making the tour to the Atlantic States and Europe in February or March 1893, and will equip himself with the mineral materials, fossil remains, &c., and illustrate them by diagrams and discourses throughout the Atlantic States and Europe.
Such a work which your politician has in view not be published in this State without an extraordinary outlay, nor have the materials artists, or skill in copperplate or wood engraving. Therefore will comprise from 400 to 500 pages, to be handsomely illustrated with colored plates, maps, &c., quarto form. The subscriber will add thereto a complete list of all the associations and companies, especially mining companies.
He goes to Europe for the purpose of seeing all the manufacturing places, machines and utensils; also to the leading mining districts and metallurgical establishments, to acquire from the best sources there the most important features before the people through the medium of the Atlantic States, and the work he hereby offers to lay before the people of Europe in his mission is the inducement he will offer to the Europeans of our immensely rich mining fields and agricultural lands, together with the great advantages offered by the State and protective government for industrial citizens.
The subscriber, therefore, calls upon the citizens in the Pacific States who have the interests of our new State at heart, to aid him in this enterprise, and to be enabled to undertake with means. Each subscriber will be furnished with a copy of this work, which is designed to be useful in the counting house, to the professional man, to the miner, to the author desires to state that whatever aid or subscription he may be furnished with by the people of this State he will refund after the publication of the work, or leave the amount to be taken from his pocket.
Respectfully submitted,
JULIUS SILVERSMITH.

State of California, Oregon, and
adjacent Territories:
est and most successful correspondents, and for the
of late in a Journal devoted to the chief resources of the Pacific States, respectfully submits the following
plan and proposition to lay before the people of Europe
from England, France and Germany the working classes, mechanics, artisans, miners, and all others
for the purpose of developing the resources of our
not be benefited, provided the facilities are offered
to such emigrants, and according to the tenor of
aid to take him across the Pacific and Atlantic, so that he may be enabled to lay before the people of Europe
a work which he has compiled from authentic sources
comprising the mineral wealth of the Pacific States,
Columbia, &c., together with a synopsis of the clima-
tology, agriculture, arts and manufactures, with interesting statistics of our imports and exports, and population. Also, the organic laws of the State, the local and general laws governing mining, the Pre-emption Act, and kindred subjects pertaining to the Pacific States. The author reserves for himself the right of translation of this work (which has cost him three years of his time to collect and compile) in the German and French languages.
He contemplates making the tour to the Atlantic
will equip himself with the mineral materials, fossil
remains, &c., and illustrate them by diagrams and discourses throughout the Atlantic States and Europe.
Such a work which your politician has in view
not be published in this State without an extraordinary outlay, nor have the materials artists, or skill
comprise from 400 to 500 pages, to be handsomely
illustrated with colored plates, maps, &c., quarto
form. The subscriber will add thereto a complete list of all the associations and companies, especially mining companies.
manufacturing places, machines and utensils; also to
the leading mining districts and metallurgical estab-
most important features before the people through the medium of the Atlantic States, and the work he hereby offers to lay before the people of Europe in his
lands, together with the great advantages offered by
citizens.
The subscriber, therefore, calls upon the citizens in
furnished with by the people of this State he will re-
amount to be taken from his pocket.
Respectfully submitted,
